Sue and Dwight are a folk roots duo, originally from Winnipeg and now living in Toronto. Their music is strongly influenced by their journey from the prairies to the big city and travel in East Africa. Lyrics are honest and insightful with themes of peace, courage, and social justice, conveyed thru rich harmonies. They have just released their second CD 'Little Child Big World', a collection of songs inspired by a trip to Ethiopia, Uganda, and Malawi in 2007.

Several hundred years ago Lonnie Glass would have made his living travelling from town to town telling tales and singing for his supper...what used to be known as a "troubadour"...his tales are poignant, reflective and uplifting with beautifully eloquent lyrics and haunting melodies. Both Cohen-esque and Waits-ish...his growling timbre brings to life his experiences both real and imagined...along with his quirky guitar style...when he performs it is as if you are the only one in the room...a very personal experience...

YOUTH SPOTLIGHT

Eleven year-old Philmore Nelson Junior and his 10 year-old brother Xavier are a talented pair of singer/dancers who are quickly gaining recognition for their soulful singing and dancing. In the past year Philmore Jr. appeared on YTV, won the Toronto Sun national anthem contest, and was recently selected to sing the anthem for the Toronto Marlies. Xavier, who sings back up vocals for his brother, also regularly performs as an extreme hip hop dancer.
