

Songwriter's Showcase

@ The Gibson Centre

Hosted by George Scott

63 Tupper Street West, Alliston ON L9R 1E4 705.435.2828

Sunday May 3rd, 2:00 to 4:00 Admission $10.00 (50% to CLASS)

songwritersshowcase@hotmail.com

www.myspace.com/songwritersshowcase

Featuring on May 3rd...

Born and raised near the foothills of the Rockies in Colorado Mo Kauffey naturally picked up the influence of C & W. Combine that with an affinity towards folk/rock and an early exposure to a number of great blues players you can begin to see how Mo' delivers his unique perspective. The twist, which gifted songwriters know, is that their material is delivered to the surface from their own experience and talents in combination with an understanding and love of the works of other stylists and songwriters which they have admired and been exposed to for years. Ever notice how a really great songwriter can interpret another's song as well as their own? That's Mo' Kauffey and with his new CD "Dig It," produced by Kent MacMillan, Mo' interprets the songs of 9 others while adding 2 new songs of his own to the mix. <http://www.mokauffey.com>

Nicole Scott is an exciting young performer from Tottenham who is gaining recognition across southern Ontario and on the national stage. Nicole has just been named Campus Idol 2009 for Ontario at the provincial finals in Windsor. She was also the grand prize winner of the 2008 KICX 106 Nashville North singing contest, where she opened the show for Aaron Lines at the Kempenfest festival to a crowd over 2000. Nicole also caught the eye of Canadian Idol judges and earned a spot the top 40 performers from across Canada. Over the past year Nicole has performed at popular Toronto clubs such as the El Macombo. She has also performed at a number of outdoor festivals and concerts including the Minesing Unplugged Wetlands Festival, Alliston Potato Festival, Beeton Honey Festival and Melodies in the Mill in Campbellford.

With a stage presence and soulful voice well beyond her twenty-one years, Nicole Scott engages the audience with her poignant lyrics and compelling melodies. Her warm and earthy tones invite the listener to experience a wide variety of musical stylings from roots to country, rock, blues and jazz. Nicole has recently been honing her songwriting skills as she prepares to start production on her latest CD.

