Featuring on September 6th...

D Eve Archer was born into a musical family and grew up in Woodstock Ontario. At age 6 she began to discover the joys of playing the piano and trained through the Royal Conservatory of Music. Although trained classically, D was drawn to the sounds of Jazz, R&B, Rhythm and Blues, and Hip Hop. By age 13 her first song was written, which has now turned into a library of over 70 fully composed songs, along with an unknown amount of lyrical compositions. Choosing to attend the University for the Theory of Music, D began to apply what she had learned to her musical compositions. After finishing in the Top 32 Heat in the country wide competition Canadian Idol in 2004, she came home and dedicated herself to writing and singing.

Dave Joseph is a 20 year old songwriter from Orangeville. When he's not writing incredibly engaging songs he's performing with the 'Dave Joseph Band' and his father Perry's band 'Riddim Forward', or working at Aardvark Music in Orangeville. (www.aardvarkmusic.ca) Dave's own words from his myspace sums it all up ... "Not much to know about me. I like to write songs about girls who break my heart, and then break other girls hearts with those same songs."
